

Talk about and why it is so important. Find examples of people who demonstrate honesty.

Do something nice. Draw a note saying something nice about your child. Tuck it where they will find it.

Talk about what is happening to the leaves on the trees as they begin to change colors.

Set aside time every day for reading aloud. Sometimes, let your child read to you.

Make a special effort to reinforce manners today. Remind your child to say and

Figure out the average of something with your child.

Make up trivia questions about your family. Quiz one another at the dinner table.

Make a habit of using Sunday nights as a time to talk with your child about the week ahead.

Fall Break/No School

Tonight at dinner, put a price on each item you serve. Have your child figure out the total cost of the meal.

Show your child a new shape today. If they already know the basics, introduce a hexagon or octagon.

Write some fractions on cards. Mix them up. Have your child put them in order from smallest to greatest.

Dictionary day is in honor of Noah Webster, considered the father of the American Dictionary. It took him 27 years to finish the first ever American Dictionary. Born on this day in 1758.

Keep a notebook handy when watching TV. Have your child jot down five new

Early Release

Fall Break/No School

Parent Conferences

Have your child think of as many words as he or she can that begin with the letter F.